Academic Activities

Each year the MAC experience is unique, but it always includes pre-dissection lectures and pro-section presentations, complete human cadaver dissection, scrubs, materials, supplies, activities, accommodations, and many meals. All dissections are performed in our new laboratory located at The Charter Place, in Buffalo, NY. Many medical professionals that provide demonstrations and tours of facilities, as well as answer questions of participants. Hard work and exams will be conferred a certificate of completion and distinction awards when appropriate.

Cultural Activities

This is a conference like no other. Be prepared to leave your comfort zone! We welcome those with an open mind ---excited to master anatomy but also to master English, try new food, befriend new people, enjoy unfamiliar music and venues and remain pleasant with little or no sleep. Be prepared for schedule adjustments due to a change in weather or better opportunities arising.

There will be mandatory organized activities for all students included in the conference fees. Together we will spend time at the beaches of the Great Lakes, enjoy concerts, sporting events, parties, cultural events and a have a free day to explore Niagara Falls. There will also be opportunities for free time to go to restaurants, shop, amusement parks, play sports, sing, dance, play music, exercise, cook, explore the city and to really get to know each other forming life-long friendships.

Mazzotti Anatomy Conference 2020

Mazzotti Anatomy Conferences (MACs)

(MACs) began in 2010 earning international recognition and praise. Named for the President of the Bologna Medical School and of the European Federation for Experimental Morphology, the late Professor Giovanni Mazzotti hoped to invite the best students from each of the Italian medical schools to participate. Each year, hundreds of students apply and over 1000 have participated in our two to three week programs.

In addition to 100 hours of dissection, participants learn about American medical professions, education, and health care. Some may determine the cause of death; others compare and contrast specific systems of the cadavers. Pre- and post-conference exams are used to assess the effect dissection has on the learning of anatomy.

Accommodations and Meals

Accommodations are included in conference fees. You will be sharing a room with 4 – 10 other medical students. Each participant may choose one roommate, the others will be assigned based on registration survey results. Little time will be allotted for sleeping. About half of the participants will at TCP with 3-5 bunk beds per room, nice shower facilities, and lounging areas inside and out. There is a large video screen, musical instruments, basketball, ping-pong and Karaoke. For this group most meals are included unless there is an offsite activity or free time. It is near a large park for running, golf, tennis, a zoo, restaurants, shops and a movie theater.

Others will at a hotel 6 Km from TCP. The rooms house six and have a full kitchen and includes breakfast.

Transportation to and from hotel will vary, some enjoy the walk/run, there are vans or the public bus. We provide lunch for all. Those staying at the hotel, return for dinner on your own. Some nights will include evening activities and/or dinners for all.

Application and Fees

Applicants may begin the pre-registration process on January 1, 2020. Airfare should not be purchased until notified that the Chartered Professors officially accepts your deposit and has gained your attendance approval from your professor(s). The fee of $3050 US dollars will be collected in three installments due on or before February 1 ($550), April 1 ($1000) and June 1 ($1500). If a participant wishes to make the initial deposit to hold their position, but is concerned about passing their February anatomy exam, email us directly. All students are required to obtain health insurance and we strongly suggest travel insurance.
